

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

For the democratic process to work -- especially just weeks before a Presidential Election that has United States voters EQUALLY DIVIDED between the candidates, an anti-Kerry program should be balanced with either (1) an anti-Bush, or, (2) a pro-Kerry program.

A once-sided attack on Mr. Kerry is not satisfactory. We Americans expect and deserve better.
